

How to Turn Your Phone into a Wi-Fi Hotspot

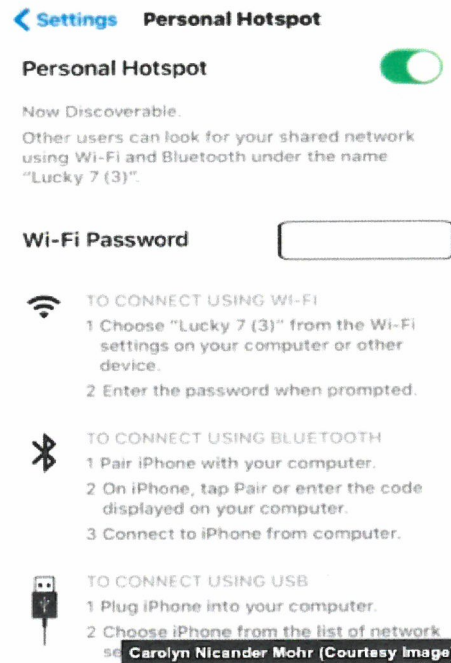

iPhone

To turn your iPhone into a hotspot, go to Settings, then Personal Hotspot.

iPhone Settings Hotspot

The next screen will let you set a password. Do not skip this step (see below). The name of your network is the name you have given to your phone.

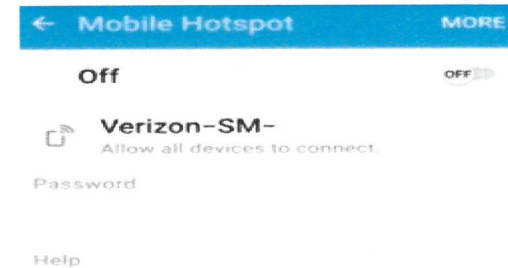

iPhone Settings Hotspot Network

Slide the switch to on and follow the directions that appear.

Android

You can use your Android phone as a hotspot if it is running Android 2.2, or later operating systems. Your phone and carrier must also permit tethering.

To turn your Android phone into a hotspot, go to Settings, then Mobile Hotspot & Tethering.

Use your phone as a Mobile Hotspot to share its Internet connection with up to 10 allowed devices.

Android Hotspot

Tap on Mobile Hotspot to turn it on, set the name of your network and set a password.

Connecting a Device to Your Wi-Fi Hotspot

You connect a computer or tablet to your phone's Wi-Fi hotspot just as you would connect to any other Wi-Fi network. Select the name of your phone's network, enter the password and connect.

